What a great convention, and I have all of the IAMIC members, as well as Jackie and her awesome staff, to thank for that! Having my board members & staff present at the banquet made it all the more special. During convention, a number of people commented to me "I'll bet you're glad your term is almost over." Although I always responded "yes" with a smile, a part of me was a bit wistful that I'm on my way to becoming what former IAMIC chairman affectionately term "a has-been".

Serving as the IAMIC chairman has been an incredibly rewarding and worthwhile opportunity, for which I will always be forever grateful to have experienced. To know the membership of this close group of "competitors" entrusted the leadership of the organization to me is humbling and I am surprised by the range of emotions I'm feeling as my time as chairman comes to a close.

I have so many fond memories of the IAMIC events of the last year, and friendships both new and renewed. I hope that many of you who have volunteered in the past will continue giving the gift of yourself, and those of you who have not had the opportunity to volunteer will step up and get to experience the rewards of being a volunteer for our great association.

My theme "United We Stand ~ Strength in Numbers" is, and hopefully always will be, the epitome of IAMIC. In our industry today, any one of us alone is like a small flickering flame in the darkness. When we join together, we are a blazing bonfire unable to be ignored. Hmmmm...considering we aren't typically fans of fire, I suppose that wasn't the best of analogies, but you understand my point. Together we are stronger than we could ever be individually, and with IAMIC there for us, we never have to feel as though we are alone. Ask just about any of the IAMIC mutual managers, and they will tell you that help is just a phone call, email or text away.... so many avenues to seek out support.

I look forward to the upcoming year, as IAMIC is led by our new chairman, Karen Williams. Karen chose the theme "We Are Family," which I think is extremely appropriate for our close-knit organization. Please join me in helping make the next year as successful and rewarding for Karen, as the past year has been for me.

Thank you again for allowing me to be your chairman! ❖

Kelly

From the Executive Director's Desk

Another successful year for our association brings a smile to my heart. Working in an industry with people of such integrity, who demonstrate ethical principles at work as well as their personal lives, is a blessing, and one for which I am truly grateful.

Our 136th annual convention was packed with knowledge and fun—the perfect combination. Our education committee and convention committees get a huge round of applause for a job well done this year. Hosting a meeting that allows our members to network with each other and share ideas is exactly what our Chairman had envisioned with her theme, “United We Stand”.

I congratulate all our award winners this year (please see page 18). It's a very exciting time in our industry where we are witnessing tremendous growth in our technology and our expectations of our staff and board. Witnessing so many companies and individuals getting involved is inspiring.

We have a Leadership Retreat planned for November 6, 7 & 8 with our partners in Wisconsin. This will open the communications with peers who are similar in size and challenges. While we are holding this in place of our normal Managers Retreat, Illinois members will gather on November 6th alone, allowing us a chance to host the roundtables that our managers treasure. We kick off the next day with our WI colleagues for a great educational event. Please see page 20 for details and plan to join us! The event is open to all Illinois Mutual employees, while the Nov. 6 meeting is for Managers/Asst Managers only.

Our newly-elected Chair, Karen Williams, has been busy putting together her committees. The planning process will begin in November and I am excited to see what our committees will bring forward on our agenda. There are so many great ideas and needs that have been submitted to us via the questionnaires at our meeting, but I would encourage you to quickly send me an email if you have a need/idea you would like to see us include. Karen's theme, “We are Family”, will reflect the path that we will travel together during the next year, reaching out to help each other be stronger, more efficient Mutuals.

Our 2017 Chair, Kelly Reagan, has helped direct our Association's progress and I have seen firsthand how her guidance has encouraged our members to not settle for the “same way we have been doing things for years”, but to seek new opportunities. Kelly created a great team to help her this year and our Board of Directors have been diligent in keeping on course. I will always remember Kelly's comment to me one day when she said, “I am blessed beyond measure”—and she meant it! She valued her role as our leader and became even more dedicated to our Association. Thank you Kelly for a fantastic year!

Before we know it, the snow will fly and we will bring in the new year, God willing. What does 2018 hold for your Mutual? Are you staying informed of all the changes and risks that we face in today's world? I encourage you to save the dates for all our educational opportunities and strive to attend each one.

Of the Mutuals that have closed, 98% were not engaged and active in our association. I can't help but believe that this contributed to the need to close their doors. Don't allow this to happen to your Mutual—we are holding a heritage in our hands that our forefathers built so many years ago with a vision of helping their neighbors—a need that continues to this day. I am confident that you don't want to be part of the team who lets the 100-year-old mutual close. Stay informed, stay engaged—put the Power of the Association to work for you. ❖

IAMIC at NAMIC

According to Jackie Rakers, IAMIC Executive Director, "Illinois had a strong representation at our National Convention in Denver, CO. We were able to capture the majority of those attending in the photo above. I'm proud that our IL members are so involved!"

Message from our 2017 Chair

Our very own Executive Director received the distinguished PERSON OF THE YEAR Award from the Wisconsin Association of Mutual Insurance Companies. Jackie worked closely with the WAMIC board to help them develop new job descriptions and strategic plans as they prepared for a newly elected President. After they hired a new leader, she shared ideas and templates to help him kick-start his career. Jackie also has led the multi-state State Executives meetings for the last two years.

During her acceptance speech Jackie shared a story of why she gives of her time and talents to her peers. "While securing a speaker for IAMIC, a speaker shared a philosophy that I try to live by daily. He said "I wouldn't be where I am today or have the skills I have, if someone wouldn't have shared their knowledge and time with me." Jackie went on to say, "That is what makes the Mutual Industry so amazing—we all share our time and talents to help each other, and I am grateful to work in such a respected industry."

We congratulate Jackie on this award and am grateful she represents our Association and has earned the respect of her peers!

Things were really looking up when the 2017 Convention and Trade Show conveniently coincided with The Great American Eclipse on August 21st! # Casino Night

Executive Director Jackie Rakers welcomes everyone to Casino Night!!

Chris Feldt was dealing up fun all evening!

Chair Kelly and her husband Steve Robery sang a duet.

Thanks to everyone for getting into the spirit of the evening and adding so much to the enjoyment of all!

2017 Award Winners

LAUTUM AWARD:

Sandra Bear, Watseka Mutual (retired)
Presented by Kelly Reagan-Robery, 2017 Chair

Sandra Bear was honored with the prestigious LAUTUM Award at the 136th Annual Convention of the Illinois Association of Mutual Insurance Companies in August. Sandra was the manager for Watseka Mutual for many years, recently retiring.

The nomination for Bear stated, "My nominee truly exemplifies the Farm Mutual concept of 'Neighbor Helping Neighbor.'" She is well respected in the state and national industry families for representing her mutual with integrity, efficiency, and respect.

Bear served on the IAMIC Board of Directors for many years, as well as numerous committees. Her peers described her as always the friendly face at every event, staying engaged with change in the industry and forming a steadfast friendship in the mutual family. She has mentored many mutual managers and underwriters over the years, always sharing her knowledge and any documents needed.

LAUTUM is Mutual spelled backward and stands for strength, dedication, leadership, commitment, integrity, and honor. The award originated in 1972 as a measure of recognition for outstanding individual contributions to the community, the association, and the mutual insurance industry. The LAUTUM Award is presented to the person who has earned the respect and esteem of her colleagues. Recipients are nominated by their peers.

VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR AWARD:

Chris Feldt, Heartland Mutual
Presented by Jackie Rakers, IAMIC Executive Director

Chris Feldt, Heartland Mutual is already a past recipient of the Volunteer of the Year Award, but this year he put "an amazing amount of time and effort" into IAMIC, serving on numerous committees and always participating, said IAMIC Executive Director Jackie Rakers. He also stepped up to share his knowledge and provide special skill sets to his peers, teaching classes in Illinois and Wisconsin, and Iowa. He serves on the NAMIC convention committee, and also developed and chaired a new Annual Golf Outing to generate funds for the Joe Reid Scholarship.

The Volunteer of the Year Award is presented to a person who serves as an example of volunteer commitment and leadership. We are thankful for members like Chris who demonstrate these qualities and move the Association forward.

2017 Award Winners

COMPANY ACHIEVEMENT AWARD
Belvidere Mutual Insurance Company
and Nicolette DeCicco, Belvidere Mutual Manager

Belvidere Mutual has served Northern Illinois for 140 years by adapting to changes in the industry to best serve their customers. Over the last year, they have redeveloped their website, offered online payments, added more payment methods, payment plans, and implemented an agency portal to support technological demands.

Financially, they have experienced unprecedented growth and profit of the last few years. They are striving toward reaching their goals by making necessary changes to underwriting guidelines, taking a more active role in the reinsurance contract, increasing new business and cutting operating expenses. The Manager wrote, "We take pride in our accomplishments, knowing that such stability will serve our policyholders well."

Their board is diverse and every board member has been enrolled in the FMDC (Farm Mutual Director Certification) program with NAMIC; several have earned their designation, and the balance are making progress toward that achievement.

"(Achieving certification) has increased the board involvement drastically! They are committed to our company and it is echoed in their dedication and willingness to learn. This demonstrates that self-awareness, vision, and action are the keys to a mutual's vitality. We have been able to maintain the quality service and care that defined our industry 140 years ago, while evolving into a 21st-century company that can not only compete but thrives in today's ever-changing industry," manager Nicolette DeCicco stated. ❖

FIRE DEPARTMENT OF THE YEAR AWARD: Sigel Fire Department

Nominated by two member Mutuals—Sigel Mutual and Home Farmers Mutual—the Sigel Fire Department covers 75 square miles and has 22 active volunteers; two of them are instructor-certified, two are advanced and 12 are basic. They built a new fire station in 2013, adding a pumper truck—all without federal assistance. They also received auto rescue status in 2015, as well as all new turnout gear from FEMA grants.

Firefighters are known for their dedication, and the Sigel department continues to grow and strives to be the best for their community. They willingly risk their lives for complete strangers, on call at all times of the day and night and fight fires and perform rescues in all types of weather conditions.

As active as they are brave and committed, the Sigel Fire Department is a model for the many fire departments in our state. The dedication and determination this department has diligently shown toward the betterment and safety of their community earn them badges of honor with every service call. IAMIC is honored to present them with this award. ❖

Message from the Chair-Elect

Karen Williams
Louisville Clay County Mutual

Karen Williams

Hello Members,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you who attended the IAMIC Convention in Bloomington/Normal. What a wonderful event! Kelly's theme "United We Stand - Strength in Numbers" resonated throughout 2017 and the duration of our convention. This year's theme encouraged the IAMIC members to think about ways to strengthen their mutual companies rather than seek merger partners. The education throughout the year and the convention left members with a positive attitude regarding the future of the farm mutual industry and the company they represent. It's a wonderful feeling!

In keeping with the message of unity, our 2018 theme —We are Family — describes our industry as well. The mutual companies of Illinois are between the ages of 92 and 152 years young. IAMIC was formed in 1881. That's a lot of experience! With the added support of our reinsurance companies, we are able to stand our ground in this ever changing industry. I truly believe the bond our IAMIC members have formed can only be described as "family."

Because of our support, care and concern for our industry and our fellow members, we strive for excellence.

As with any family, there's always something that needs improvement. For 2018, I encourage you to focus on one or two agenda items you feel need attention to make your company even more efficient. Whether it is board member attendance at IAMIC functions, policy changes, a website, etc., you'll be surprised by the impact a little "tweak" can make.

IAMIC and its members have made such a positive impression on Louisville Clay County Mutual and me. The education committee always excels in providing our members the tools we need to strengthen our companies. The information exchanged during round table discussions amazes me. It's a wonderful association because of our leadership and our members.

I am very proud to be an IAMIC member and to have the honor of serving as your 2018 Chairman. I look forward to learning with you and working with you, my Mutual Family.

Sincerely,

Karen
